

SMOKE KILLED ALL
WHILE THEY SLEPTFURTHER DETAILS OF THE NEW YORK FIRE.

When the Stairway Burned Away the Inmates Were Compelled to Come Down the Fire Escapes—Victims Smothered by Smoke—A Woman Jumps from a Window.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Seven people were smothered to death by smoke in a tenement house fire at 210 West Thirty-second street yesterday. Another woman jumped from a third-story window and will die. The fire came suddenly and cut off all escape by the stairways. In the excitement everybody looked only to individual safety, and rushed down the fire escape. The following perished in the building: George Friedman, aged 4 years; Levy Friedman, aged 3; Annie Appleblat, aged 22; Lena Mitchell, aged 24; Mrs. Margaret Killian, aged 70; Jacob Killian, her son, aged 40; George Levy, Mrs. Killian's grandson, aged 20. Fatally injured: Lena Friedman, mother of the dead children, jumped from the third story window. She was badly bruised and mangled and will die.

The house is a five-story brick tenement, the ground floor being occupied by a grocery and the upper stories being arranged with front and rear apartments. Seven families were in the house.

The only means of exit was a stairway, narrow and dark, which ran directly up through the center of the building. The fire broke out in the cellar at 3 o'clock. There were seven families, numbering thirty-five persons, in the house. Before they were thoroughly aroused the flames shot up through the air shafts and hallways, lighting the woodwork and cutting off the escape of the tenants. By the time the firemen came the inmates were in a state of hopeless panic. Some of them made their way to the roof and escaped to adjoining houses. Others appeared at windows surrounded by flames and crying piteously for aid. A great crowd gathered in the street below unable to extend any relief to the panic-stricken victims. Those imprisoned persons who did not lose their heads climbed out on the fire escapes and some of them reached the ground in this way.

One after another, with loud cries of weeping and wailing, the people came into the arms of policemen, who helped them down. From an opening in the street from the cellar the smoke poured until the policemen were almost overcome. How the people held to the escapes with the dense smoke pouring in their faces the policemen said afterward they could not tell. But they held on, as it was a matter of life and death to them. There must have been twenty people who jumped into his arms, the policeman said. One policeman, Powers by name, saved twenty lives by his heroic work on the fire escapes.

When the first policeman arrived the stairway was being rapidly burned away. Still their was not a sign of life from the people in the house. To enter the house meant death. The only hope for those within was in arousing them by shouts in which the policeman was aided by those who had been attracted by the fire. Suddenly to the noise of the flames as they burned away the stairway there was added an awful cry. One of the tenants in the upper part of the house had been aroused and stood at the window of the fifth floor. It was Mrs. Eberwein, who lived alone on that floor. In another minute there was not a window in the front of the house that did not contain the wild and frightened face of some man, woman or child, each of them appealing for aid. The faces in the windows were framed in smoke, which poured forth in volumes.

POPE'S SPEECH ON UNITY.

His Holiness' Utterances at Recent Conference Are Made Public.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A special dispatch from Rome says: The text of the pope's speech at the conference held to consider the union of the eastern and western churches has just been made public, although the speech was delivered Oct. 24. After praising all who had helped to bring about the conference the pope said:

"We wish that all governments alike had embraced this grand ideal, inasmuch as the work, if achieved, will be for the interest and benefit of the entire world, but political views and still more, we regret to say, the unreasonable jealousies of some of the governments, which show in what condition the papacy is placed, have prevented these reunions from having the solid results expected from them. Above all, we must lament the absence of the patriarch of the Armenians. We shall not on this account, however, recede from our purposes, even if we could only within certain limits on political union. Nothing will prevent us from solving the grand problem from the religious side while awaiting more propitious times for the rest of the work."

CHARGED WITH SEDITION.

Populist Editor at Ripley, Tenn., Arrested for Inciting Riot.

RIPLY, Tenn., Oct. 31.—E. F. Talley, editor of the People's Advocate, a populist newspaper issued at this place, has been arrested on the charge of sedition, growing out of the publication of an article in the last issue of that paper. The article in question is as follows:

"After considering the matter, it has been determined to hold a mass meeting, which all honest people are invited to attend, in the court house next Saturday, Nov. 3, at 1 p. m. The object of this meeting is to give expression to the determination now formed in the minds and hearts of the people to die rather than submit to anything but a fair election on Tuesday, Nov. 6. That they have all come to this conclusion it does not require much time or conversation to demonstrate. To submit to such glaring frauds as were practiced in the August election is to surrender all manhood and patriotism, and this the honest people of old Lauderdale are not yet ready to do, and before they will do it they will soak the sod with their blood. Every honest man who desires a fair and honest election is earnestly urged to quit his daily avocation and come on that day and show that he is at least on the side of justice and right. Come, everybody."

Editor Talley was admitted to bail under a $2,500 bond. The law under which he was arrested is a section in the revised statutes prohibiting the calling of meetings or mobs for the purpose of inciting a riot. Talley was recently found guilty of libel and compelled to pay $1,000 damages.

DEMOCRACY BRINGS DARK, DISMAL DAYS

DESOLATION AND DISSOLUTION
FOLLOW THEIR SUCCESS.

Disgraceful Spectacle of the High Officers of the State Being Sued to Recover the Money That They Defrauded Others Of in Looting the State Treasury.

Chairman H. C. Thom, of the republican state central committee has issued an address that every voter should read. He says:

"The time is almost at hand when the voters will be afforded another opportunity to give expression to their political convictions through the ballot box. The election to be held November 6th is one of paramount importance, and will register the sentiments of the voters upon the great financial and industrial questions that are controversy between the parties. There never has occurred in the same period of time so great a change in business conditions as has been witnessed since the election of 1892. For many years previous to the election of 1892 there had been such growth in wealth, development and numbers in this country as had no precedent in the advance of individual prosperity or in the building of nations. The genius of the people, stimulated to prodigious activity by our wise protective laws, had given to business an impetus that brought reward alike to capital and labor, and every man, woman and child beneath the flag could easily procure all of the articles of life necessary to make them comfortable. There never was a time before in this, or any other country, when investments brought surer return, or the dollar earned by the laboring man would buy so much of everything essential for the welfare of himself and his family. Every wheel was running, every loom singing and everybody was receiving good wages.

Disaster and Democracy Came.

"With the incoming of the democratic administration on the fatal 4th of March, 1893, everything was changed. Prosperity yielded to adversity, gain to loss, labor to idleness, plenty to pinching want. In the last twenty months the history of every day has been a story of panic, loss and suffering. Fortunes have been wrecked, business crippled, investments rendered unprofitable and labor driven into idleness. The democratic promises of better times, larger profits, higher wages, cheaper living, more of everything desirable and less of everything hurtful, have all remained unfulfilled. Industry has been paralyzed by delay and uncertainty. The cause of the disastrous depression is found in the attempt to wipe out protective legislation, and to substitute for it the doctrine of a revenue tariff. It is the doubt as to the future that has entrenched itself into every man's business, closed the mines, put out the fires in mills and factories, reduced wages and filled the times with unrest, apprehension and disaster.

"The democratic party has been in full control of the government for almost half a presidential term, and during that time has abundantly demonstrated that it lacks both the intention and ability to give the country fair and wise government. Neither in the presidency or in congress has there been found courage or competency. The promises of the democrats have proved delusions and their theories dangerous. We judge them not by their professions, but by their practices; not what they promise to do, but what they have done. They now ask support for the future that they may rectify the mistakes of the past. Not satisfied with twenty months of inactivity and misrule, they seek to protract the uncertainty that has blighted every business interest and brought loss, if not suffering, to every individual.

Prosperity Comes With Protection.

The people must look to the republican party, that has brought them so much prosperity in the past, to bring them relief from these perilous and distressing democratic times. To bring them out of disaster into prosperity; out of lawlessness into peace. This can be done only by enacting an intelligent and equitable tariff law, shutting the gates against the cargoes of manufactured goods that are intended to displace those made here, and thereby turn into the streets American workmen who should be employed to supply the home market. Republicans, if given the power, will restore wages to the former standard and give to business the life and profit which it enjoyed in 1892. Republicans will legislate for the United States, not for England, France or Germany. They will give the people free sugar instead of free diamonds; free necessities instead of free luxuries. They will restore the gold reserve and put a stop to the increase of the public debt. They will adopt a foreign policy that will command respect instead of exciting ridicule. In short, they will restore the conditions that existed before the calamities of a democratic administration, and bring the country back again to the prosperity that it enjoyed under thirty years of republican rule. The experience of the past twenty months should be sufficient to make plain to the judgments and consciences of candid and intelligent men that it is to a wise protective policy that the people must look for their highest prosperity.

"Enlightened protection is the hope and stay of the toiling millions, whether working at the forge, in the factory or on the farm. Wherever a hammer is lifted, a plow held, a shuttle thrown, there is one whose direct interest is that labor be effectually protected, to the end that there may come independence, joy and comfort to the dwelling alike of the farmer, the operative and the artisan.

"The tax payers of Wisconsin are invited to scrutinize the facts as to the management of state affairs by the present officers. They came into power under the promise that they would reform the management and reduce the expenses of the state government; they have failed to do this. Instead of reducing expenses they have greatly increased them. A comparison of the figures taken from the official records show that the expenses during the three years of democratic rule, 1891-2-3, are largely in excess of the expenses for the last three years of republican rule, 1888-9-90. That the state tax is to be reduced this year is wholly due to the fact that there is a large amount of money in the treasury derived from unusual sources. It is owing entirely to this extraordinary income that the taxes are reduced. The records, instead of showing economy or good business management, show the most wasteful extravagance and reckless methods. Had the present state officers been as economical as their republican predecessors, there would have been no state tax this year, and there would have been a handsome sum left in the treasury.

The Proof Easy to Get.

"Any tax payer can satisfy himself of the correctness of this statement by an examination of the reports of the secretary of state. Our opponents seek by the use of irrelevant figures and statements of expenditures over which the state officers can exercise no control, to establish the fact of their economy. They have as yet presented no comparative statements, containing only such items of expense as are under the control of the state officers. Nor will they do this. Such statements, which are the only fair ones to make, in all cases, the increased expenses during the past three years.

"The extra money received by the present amounts to over $300,000 in excess of the amount reported as on hand. This $300,000 represents what has been expended in the last three years in excess of what was expended in the previous three years for precisely the same purposes. There has been collected from the ex-treasurers and applied to the reduction of the state tax for this year $327,903.55. The democrats claim much credit for this, and it might be accorded them were it not for the fact that they have squandered in extravagant expenditures the entire amount, so that the tax-payers have not had the benefit of a dollar of it. It has been asserted and proved beyond controversy, that the present state officers have in no direction shown good business management or practiced economical methods. On the contrary, the undisputed figures of the public records show that their administration has been characterized by extravagance and waste.

Rascality in High Places.

"It is with the deepest chagrin that we discharge the duty of calling the attention of the citizens of our state to the attempt to rob the treasury through the unlawful letting of the printing of the roster of Wisconsin soldiers. The attempt was one of the boldest, as it was one of the most stupid, ever made to defraud the public. A contract was secretly made by the governor, under the advice of the attorney-general, to let the printing, in defiance of the constitution of the state, which declares that all printing shall be let to the lowest bidder, at a price nearly three times as great as it would have cost had it been sent to the state printer had been done under his contract. Had not the existence of the contract been ascertained—although every effort was made to keep it secret, in utter defiance of the law which requires that all contracts shall be placed on file where they may be inspected—the state would have lost a very large sum. It was only after the threat of legal proceedings that the governor was frightened into cancelling the contract. Before its cancellation the governor's private secretary had sold an interest in it for a bonus of $20,000, and $2,500 of the money so received was used to pay a note on which the governor was an endorser and which had gone to protest. After the contract was cancelled, the parties purchasing the interest in it brought suit against the governor, his private secretary, the attorney-general, assistant attorney-general, and other state officers, to recover the money paid.

All Parties Were Guilty.

"The people of Wisconsin were then called upon to witness the shameful spectacle of their state officers elected to protect the public interests and sworn to faithfully discharge the high duties imposed upon them, arraigned before the bar of justice for an attempt to loot the state treasury. The roster suit is now pending before the supreme court, the circuit court having held that, as the complainants had a guilty knowledge of the transaction, they could not come into the court with clean hands, and so were not entitled to receive the logic of the decision, which, while non-suiting the plaintiffs, convicted the defendants of an attempt to defraud the state.

"How can honest men, who respect themselves, have a pride in the good name of the state, or desire to see pure government, vote for continuing in power the officers implicated in the roster conspiracy?

"In state and nation have the democrats forfeited their claim upon the confidence and support of the people.

In the state they have engaged in unlawful and fraudulent practices, and greatly increased expenses by extravagant and reckless management. In the nation they have violated every promise made to the people, and instead of bringing better times, have dragged the country down from the heights of prosperity to the depths of adversity. There is safety in voting the republican ticket. It stands for honest government and good times. Respectfully yours,

HENRY C. THOM, Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK PLANNED.

County Missionary John H. Leas' Idea Adopted By the Convention.

The fact that many children are away from the Sunday school and places of worship on Sunday, has caused many people to devise plans of reaching them. The fact was brought before the convention at Plymouth Sunday, and it was decided to try and advance the work. It was also made known that the great number of Sunday schools in the county was giving the county missionary more work to do than he was able to attend too. He being asked to be present at 16 different Sunday schools on the same day, and at another time 11. He stated that he was able to supply all these schools by the help of people from Milton, Janesville and Beloit. Mr. Leas said he wished to see the work go on in a more successful manner, and the best remedy he could suggest was to organize the township, elect a president and secretary, whose duty it would be to see to the needs of their township and report how the work was getting along. This would aid in providing for the needy fields, just when his help was most needed. This township president and secretary can call the Sunday schools together as often as they think necessary. This will help the old as well as the young. This plan was adopted and the following officers were chosen for the township:

Avon—Alvid Bullis, President; Mrs. Wm. Burelson, Secretary.
Newark—Leonard Williams, President; Mrs. H. Atwood, Secretary.
Spring Valley—William Reed, President; Charles Taylor, Secretary.
Plymouth—Frank Dean, President; John Ogden, Secretary.

SHOULD THE GOVERNMENT ACT

To Suppress Fraudulent Advertisements of World's Fair Awards?

Letters from both the chief of awards (on Agriculture) at the Chicago World's fair, Mr. J. S. Browning, and the judge of awards on baking powders, expose the falsity of the claim made in behalf of a Chicago baking powder that it received the highest award for leavening power, keeping qualities, purity and general excellence.

The judge of awards says that this claim is false, that no such award was given to that baking powder.

Mr. Browning in his letter already published also shows that there was no award given to the Chicago company for the best baking powder.

It now appears further that the analyses of the powder exhibited showed a baking powder made in New York altogether the superior of the Chicago powder in both purity and strength.

The government has prohibited the use for advertising purposes of the medals awarded by the Fair. It would be a great protection to the public if the government would also prohibit the publication of false claims such as those that have been exposed in relation to such awards.

The only official competitive test of a national character, from which consumers can obtain the actual facts as to the relative values of all the principal brands of baking powder of the country, is that made at the agricultural department at Washington, D. C. It so happens that this was conducted by the same eminent chemist who acted as judge of awards at the Chicago Columbian Fair. As has already been published, at this examination the Royal Baking Powder was found to be the superior powder and highest in leavening strength.

THAT SEWER WORK WAS LEGALLY LET

COMMITTEE HAD TO GO BY THE ADVERTISED RULES.

Notice to Contractors Provided Expressly That the Bids Should Be Made in Detail and Not in the Aggregate—Mr. Kimball's Clear and Concise Statement.

Hon. Fenner Kimball sends to The Gazette the following:

TO THE VOTERS OF THIRD ASSEMBLY DISTRICT—In view of the disposition of some political enemies to distort facts; to make misstatements, and otherwise pervert the truth; more particularly with reference to the letting contract for a sewer, from the Insane Asylum to Rock River, a distance of 3600 feet; I feel impelled to make a plain statement of the facts connected therewith and related to the same.

On Friday, August 31, Mrs. Chapin notified me that the sewage of the county farm was running onto his farm and doing him much damage. He wished the nuisance abated at once. The building committee and trustees of the asylum were called together and after looking the situation over, came to the conclusion that the only safe, and in the end, less expensive course to pursue, was to have a sewer constructed to Rock river. In pursuance of this conclusion a survey was made, plans and specifications were prepared by County Surveyor, Bleedorn, and an advertisement was put in the paper calling for bids in detail as follows: For sewer pipe, iron pipe, excavating and filling and trestle work. Bids were received from N. F. Reichert & Co., Racine; Ryan & Brown and Mr. Curtis of this city. Curtis' bid was informal.

The advertisement called for the bids to be opened at Court House, Wednesday, October 24, at 2 o'clock p. m. On looking the bids over carefully, the committee decided that only two of the bids conformed to the conditions in advertisement, that is detailed bids, that of N. F. Reichert & Co., of Racine and Ryan & Brown of this city. Mr. Curtis' bid was rejected as informal, being the aggregate bid only, the others giving only the detailed bids and not the aggregate which required the summing of the detailed bids to arrive at the bid in full. The committee could not know what these bids would be in the aggregate at the time Mr. Curtis was rejected. Therefore believed they acted in a fair and justifiable manner. Of myself personally, I can only say that for thirty years I have been in business in Janesville, having served fifteen years in the county board, and I think the voters are competent to judge by this time whether I have acted earnestly with a desire to do and act justly toward all or not.

[Signed], FENNER KIMBALL.

No One Doubts Mr. Kimball's Word.

No business man in Janesville asks more than Mr. Kimball's word in any matter. He is not compelled to wear a sign, "I am honest," as some of his critics are. This talk about the sewer contract is all bosh. The notice to contractors as published in The Gazette read:

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed proposals for the construction of a sewer from the County Insane asylum to Rock river, according to plans and specifications on file in the office of the county clerk, will be received until two o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, the 24th inst., at which time they will be opened by the committee on public buildings and contracts awarded. The right to reject any and all bids is hereby reserved.

Sealed bids will be received for furnishing earthen sewer pipe; for laying same, including digging and filling of trench; for furnishing and laying 420 feet of cast iron pipe and for building 216 feet of trestle work and for proof casting for sewer across the ravine.

By order of the committee on public buildings. W. J. MCINTYRE, County Clerk.

What would the critics do under the circumstances? Disregard the legal conditions in the matter and invalidate the whole thing, or accept the lowest lawful bid?

KILL A GERRYMANDER AMENDMENT

See That the Second Proposition On the Ticket is Beaten.

Two very important amendments to the constitution will be voted on at the election Tuesday. The first proposes to give the legislature power to increase the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction. The salary, not including the perquisites, is now $1,200 per year.

The second amendment—"Subdivision 9, Section 31, of Article IV"—should be defeated. This gives the legislature power to tamper with city charters by amendments. The constitution was amended a few years ago so that such legislation was prohibited and a general charter was adopted, placing all cities of certain population under uniform charters and government. While the uniform charter is far from being perfect it is better and safer than one which places a city at the mercy of any political ring that may organize for the purpose of gerrymandering a city into wards, as was the case when the last gerrymander of this city was made. Such a thing under the constitution as it now is, is impossible, and it should so stand.

I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thankfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

FOOLED BY A BAD EYE.

The Battered Man Bothered the Doctor Considerably.

A man with one glass eye and the other eye badly battered caused Dr. Simpson no small amount of trouble at the San Francisco receiving hospital.

He entered the hospital to have the battered eye treated, and after the doctor had lanced it and done the other things necessary in order to reduce the swelling he carefully tied it up in half a yard of bandages. Then he said:

"Now, I guess that will turn out all right, but you want to be mighty careful of it. You can go home now."

The man thanked the doctor for his kindness, but made no effort to move, so Dr. Simpson again said:

"I'm through with you. Why don't you go home?"

"I can't move," the man replied.

"Can't move? What's the matter with you? Are you drunk?"

"No; I can't see."

"You are not blind, are you?"

"Nope."

"Then what is the matter?"

"The other eye is glass."

Dr. Simpson made no further inquiries, but quietly led the man into a ward and put him to bed.

An English farmer presented his first-born for christening at his parish church with twenty-six Christian names selected from scripture, representing every letter of the alphabet. Only with the greatest difficulty could the clergyman persuade the farmer to content himself with the first and last of the appellatives proposed. No Doubt About His Head.

Admiral Drake, when a lad, at the beginning of his first engagement was observed to shake and tremble very much, and being rallied upon it, observed, with a presence of mind (or, at all events, of humor) in which even Nelson was lacking: "My flesh trembles at the anticipation of the many and great dangers into which my resolute and undaunted head will lead me."

1875—Mrs. Black, Byron's "Maid of Athens," died; born 1790.

1876—The most terrible disaster in history since the Noachian deluge; a cyclone and tidal wave in Bengal destroyed more than 200,000 lives.

1879—Jacob Abbott, author of the popular "Rollo Books," "Framconia Stories" and nearly 30 other works, chiefly for the young, died at Farmington, Me.; born 1814.

General Joseph Hooker died at Garden City, N. Y.; born 1814.

1880—Johann N. Nussbaum, surgeon and oculist, died at Munich; born 1829.

George Dow, Jr., of Madison, manager of the Capital city mills and a life-long democrat, has come out for republican principles. He was a plaintiff in the roster case against the state officers but this, Mr. Dow says, is not the only reason which has disgusted him with democracy.

Mr. Dow says that in 1968 a carload of New York newsboys came west. Among the waifs was a lad named Williams. The Dow family kept the boy for some time and the lad drifted northward. One day when singing in the streets of Marshfield he was espied by Major Upham, who gave him a job and this once homeless lad is now secretary of a hardware company, of which Upham is president. Through this young man Mr. Dow has been informed that the campaign of personal abuse being conducted against Major Upham is unwarranted, and the stories printed, false. Mr. Dow knows the other side and intends to vote accordingly.

The Kieckhefer Company of Milwaukee, heavy manufacturers of tin ware, have on the way fifteen carloads of tin plate made in Swansea, Wales. The company claim that they bought plate in this country as long as it was to be found in the market, but that the democratic congress so paralyzed the industry, that all American mills were forced to shut down or go into bankruptcy.

Mr. Kieckhefer says that if the infant industry could have been protected for a year that American manufacturers would have been in condition to compete with the world, and yet we are told that free trade and the Wilson bill are blessings in disguise. The laboring man who votes the democratic ticket this year, is blind to his own interests.

The home market is so badly demoralized that wheat is selling at Tacoma, Washington, for eighteen cents per bushel. The markets of the world are a "nice thing" theoretically, but eighteen cent wheat in the home market is a cold fact that causes the producer, and every other man who thinks, to stop and ask the question.

"Why do these conditions exist?" They exist because soup houses and Coxey armies, strikes and idleness, follow in the wake of democratic reform.

It is time to call a halt.

Democracy is responsible for the closing of the Menasha woodenware company's big factory and three hundred men are idle. Will they vote for free trade now?

Lovell Stowe, a life long democrat, has joined the Neenah republican club.

KEEN-SIGHTED GULLS.

Ever on the Watch for Trifles Which They Might Pick Up.

"Anyone who has watched the gulls and other fish-catching birds along our coast must have discovered how keen is their sight and how cunningly they discover a school of fish long before a fin has disturbed the surface of the water," said Captain E. M. Bates, of New Bedford. "Oftentimes when at sea I have tested the vision of gulls that happened near my ship, to the great amusement of the passengers. I remember one occasion when the ship was going along at a pretty rapid rate I noticed a number of gulls following closely in our wake, apparently on the watch for anything that might be thrown overboard. Going to the cabin I procured a small biscuit and returning to the deck prepared to show the passengers the wonderful powers of vision possessed by these birds. Breaking the biscuit into small pieces, the largest of which was less than an inch square, I dropped it into the seething waters just under the bow of the vessel. It was of the same color as the hissing foam into which it was dropped, and by which it was, of course, rapidly carried astern. Once dropped it was utterly invisible to our eyes and we could only guess as to its whereabouts, but before it had fallen thirty yards astern a large gull detected it and with a headlong dart dipped into the foam and secured it. With equal dexterity the other bits were picked up, one by one, the gulls at last venturing so close to the vessel that they seemed to be watching our movements with their large, bright eyes."

Would Give Sane People Freedom.

Another society is to be organized in New York for the rescue of sane persons illegally and improperly confined in asylums for the insane. The organization already in existence is conducted by a number of enthusiastic persons who are positive that at least thirty per cent of the inmates of asylums in the United States are sane and kept in duress by persons interested in depriving them of their liberty. Several members of the existing society have been in asylums as patients and they are the most vehement in their assertions. They have succeeded in several instances in securing the release of persons from private asylums, and in one or two cases the patients had to be returned because they had not been cured. Just what the new society expects to do remains to be seen.

We Maintain Our Dignity.

In an advertising quarrel the merchant with nothing to lose, always gains something and the merchant with nothing to gain, always loses something. The policy, therefore, of the little chap is to excite a controversy. You know what happens when a big man kicks at a small rascally boy. If he hits him, he angers the crowd; if he misses him he amuses the crowd. In either event, he has lost somewhat of his dignity. This represents our case exactly. The little fellows would like us to notice them, but we will not, we are enjoying the best clothing business in the city, and it is a well known fact that the people come to us when they want something good.

War on Sunday Cattle Selling.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 31.—The threatened war against Sunday selling of cattle has stirred up considerable uneasiness among the men who have been carrying on the business at Pittsburgh Central stock yards, and the great quantity of stock on hand Monday was due to the fact that no selling was done at the yards Sunday. This will be bad news to western dealers, who have made most of their sales on that day.

ST. PAUL WILL RUN MORE TRAINS SOON

JANESVILLE BENEFITTED BY PROSPECTIVE CHANGES.

The Securing of the "Lawler Pontoon Bridge" at Prairie du Chien Will Probably Make This the Company's Principal Freight Line Between Chicago and Minneapolis.

AFTER ten years of figuring the St. Paul railroad company have secured the "Lawler Pontoon Bridge" at Prairie du Chien and a change that will result in much benefit to Janesville will follow. The company will use the bridge for immediate business, but the preparation for a new bridge will begin soon. With the sharp curves straightened and heavy steel rail the St. Paul company will soon be able to compete with the C. B. & N. R. R. for the business of the Northwest. It is now evident that they intend to utilize their direct route from Chicago to Minneapolis via Milton Junction, Wisconsin river and Mississippi valley divisions. This will give the St. Paul company the shortest line to St. Paul and will do away with several steep grades. Janesville's benefit will come in the shape of greatly increased freight traffic as this will probably be the through freight line. The Chicago passenger business will also be increased thereby although the bulk of the passenger trains will run via Milwaukee. The bridge plans have been approved by the Secretary of War, and a single span railway draw bridge will be built at once.

THE "Franklin Society of Debate" was the result of the meeting of a number young men at the home of H. McElroy. A constitution was adopted and officers elected as follows. President, J. B. McElroy; vice president, L. B. McElroy; secretary, R. D. Stewart and treasurer, H. B. North. The question for debate next Monday evening will be, "Has Chinese Immigration Thus Far on the Whole Been Rather a Benefit Than an Injury to the Country." Affirmative, H. B. North and S. Matthews; negative, I. Millmore and B. Scott.

MISS HARRIS WON THE ADLET PRIZE Her's Was The First Correct Solution of the Herald's Riddle.

Miss Lizzie Harris won first prize for solving the Chicago Herald's Sunday "Adlet puzzle" in spite of the fact that thousands of other people also contested.

The adlets contained the names of several statesmen prominently connected with the adoption of the declaration of independence, as follows:

John Hancock, the president of the continental congress, which adopted the declaration of independence.

Richard Henry Lee, who moved that a committee be appointed to prepare the declaration.

Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Robert R. Livingston, the committee appointed to prepare the declaration of independence.

The puzzle was to select the right ads. from the many printed and arrange them in the required order. Charles Carpenter, Mrs. W. T. Sherer, Mrs. Q. A. Curtiss, Mrs. E. L. Clark and Miss Hattie George also solved the problem, but not in time to get the prize offered for the first correct solution.

HOGAN GOT $885.61 AS TRAMP CATCHER

MISTAKE MADE IN THE REPORTS YESTERDAY.

That Amount Was Earned in 1881, But Search to Substantiate That Fact Reveals Another Warrant Unaccounted for as Well as Very Much Mixed Up Accounts.

Ex-City Marshal John W. Hogan called at The Gazette office this morning, requesting The Gazette to make a correction in the item of fees collected from the county, he claiming that order "No 186 (appeal from 1883) $885.61," was for fees prior to 1882, when the change took place. The Gazette has no desire to do an injustice to Mr. Hogan, and will say that the order was copied from the county clerk's record, the dates being given correctly but today, on going back to the original bills, it was found that the bill was filed previous to 1882, being marked "November 11, 1881." It is but fair to make this statement.

But in delving among the dusty records another record was pulled out, showing fees that belonged to the city, earned in 1882, and allowed by the county board, amounting to upwards of ninety dollars, which must have been absorbed in expenses by the ex-marshal, as no record is found so far that gives him credit of turning the sum over to the city treasurer.

There is a general mixed up mess of these accounts, which an expert would find difficult in straightening out. Then too, there is the jail fees, of which there appears no record previous to the term of the present incumbent.

The $885.61 item belongs to Mr. Hogan as fees earned in 1881, and the handsome sum exemplifies that he was doing a good business in the way of earning fees. It was his harvest time, and the crop of tramps was unprecedentedly large.

TRYING TO CURE HOG CHOLERA

State Veterinarian Tossant Visits Janesville on C. S. Jackson's Call.

State Veterinarian Frank J. Tossant of Milwaukee, was in the city yesterday, called here by C. S. Jackson to investigate the hog cholera on his farm. State Veterinarian Tossant claims a sure remedy for the hog cholera. Last evening he inoculated a horse and three hours later killed the horse, feeding the carcass to the diseased hogs. He claims that the hogs will recover after eating this inoculated meat. Mr. Jackson has quite a number of hogs afflicted with the disease, and is closely watching developments.

GOT TWO BROWN HORSES MIXED

The Funny Mistake Made at the Union House Barn.

Two brown horses got mixed at the Union house barns yesterday, causing considerable trouble. Mrs. McCarty of Emerald Grove, drove into town in the morning, putting her horse in the barn. Shortly after Mr. Cunningham of the town of Janesville, drove in with a colt the same color as Mrs. McCarty's.

Mrs. McCarty started home before Mr. Cunningham, the hostler hitching up the colt for her instead of her own animal. In the evening Mr. Cunningham called for his colt when the old mare was led out of the barn for him. He was astonished at the change in his colt in so short a time, but it soon dawned on the hostler that he had made a blunder.

BENEATH THE PALL OF DEATH

William Thomas Johnson.

Death came to William Thomas Johnson at his home on Elizabeth street, First ward, at 9:25 last evening. This announcement will send a shaft into many a Janesville heart outside of the sorrowing widow and relatives, for no man had more friends among his acquaintances than Mr. Johnson. He was for many years an employe of Hanchett & Sheldon, but of late had been working for a Chicago firm as traveling salesman. Always the same, kind and affable, Mr. Johnson was universally respected and liked. He was a member of the Janesville Commercial Travelers' Association, and had made Janesville his home for a long time. A consumptive trouble was the cause of his death, and its onslaught had been slow but sure. Mr. Johnson had taken an unavailing trip for the benefit of his health but a short time before his demise. A wife but no children survive him. He leaves a father, three brothers, Wellington and John of this city, and Edward, of Indian Ford, and two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Terry and Miss Mae Johnson, both of this city. The funeral will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow.

Funeral of Miss Wallace.

The funeral of Miss Anastasia Wallace was largely attended this morning both at the home and at St. Patrick's church. Dean E. M. McGinnity conducted the services at the church, and six young ladies, members of St. Patrick's Young Ladies' Sodality, acted as bearers in conveying the casket from the hearse to the altar and returning it, they being Misses Rose Riley, Katie Ryan, Mary Daly, Mary Hunt, Lucy Mackin and Mary Lyon. The regular bearers were Charles Viney, William Croak, Walter Croak, Martin Connors, William O'Grady and John Heffernan.

Mrs. Mary A. Welch.

Mrs. Mary A. Welch, widow of Josiah Welch, of 154 North Jackson street, died this morning at 6 o'clock of cancer, aged fifty-one years. She leaves two sons, William Welch of this city, and Charles Welch of Lake Geneva. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the remains will be taken to Lake Geneva on the 12:45 train for burial.

Striving to Please, Our Motto.

A good thing is always a little harder to get, but the satisfaction of knowing you have something good and reliable more than makes up for it. We are always endeavoring to get something new and reliable in our optical departments. Mr. Hayes, being a thorough optician in all that pertains to the profession knows what will suit his customers. We have on hand something entirely new in a skeleton spectacle which is a great improvement over the old skeleton, much safer and more durable. We will be pleased to show and explain them to any one desiring.

A Big Game of Cards.

This world is pretty much a game of draw. It takes a rich man to draw a check, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a plaster to draw a blister, a toper to draw a cork, a dog fight to draw a crowd, and the Janesville Carriage Works to draw all the trade in Rock County for good buggies.

SAID THE OLD LADY WAS A GIRL THIEF

PECULIAR CASE TRIED BY JUDGE BENNETT.

Aged Mrs. Morehouse Was Charged with Abducting a Young Lady Whom She Had Taken Care of for Many Years—The Jury Could Not Agree.

Judge Bennett tried rather a peculiar case at Monroe during this term of court, in which an aged lady named Morehouse was charged with abduction.

It seems that several years ago Mrs. Morehouse took charge of the daughter of a man named Merchant, of Monroe, after the death of his wife, and supported her for several years. Mrs. Morehouse finally left Monroe, turning the girl over to her father as she had not the required funds to support her. The father refused to care for his daughter, and insisted that Mrs. Morehouse continue to care for her. She refused, and was subsequently arrested on the charge of abduction.

The jury disagreed after being out for seventeen hours. The trial occupied several days, and the testimony tended to show that the defendant was innocent. The court's charge was in favor of the defendant, but not withstanding this, the jury men could not agree. Nine were for conviction, and three for acquittal. It is not probable that Mrs. Morehouse will be prosecuted further, as she has reached an advanced age and the strain of the recent trial has made her very feeble.

WINTER GOWNS AND WRAPS.

Skirts Will Continue to Be Very Wide at the Hem.

Among the new trimmings are regular sets in astrakhan, including revers, collars, cuffs and jacket trimmings. Sometimes the sets are for bodices and are devised with a view to render them wearable without a coat or cape in midseason. For instance, a sort of zouave or bolero in astrakhan is edged all around with ball fringe, and with it are sold a high collar and a long pair of cuffs, which can be buttoned on over the dress collar and sleeves. It is certain that beaver and astrakhan will be the favorite furs this winter. Skirts will continue to be very wide around the hem, though the fit to the figure above is still regarded as one of the most important points of a smart toilet. Some dressmakers still use a stiff lining in order to make the folds stand out well from the feet at the back. The new skirts with plaits down the sides are well suited to redundant figures, for, though they add to the quantity of material on the hips, the spreading out the plaits immediately below them detracts from the effect of stoutness.

Astrakhan cloth of heavy quality is selling at between $6 and $7 a yard. It is 50 inches wide and therefore "cuts to advantage," as dressmakers say, a little of it going a great way. It will be much used for capes and Eton jackets this winter.

The round waist does not diminish in favor, although long redingotes have been announced for the winter and are seen among the latest importations. They are tight fitting and reach nearly to the feet. This long style of garment over a skirt of the present dimensions promises to be rather burdensome.

An illustration is given of a gown of mastic wool. The skirt is plain in front, but pulled at the sides under pocket flaps. The Eton jacket opens over a plastron and has revers of white cloth. The full sleeves are gathered into white cloth cuffs, and white horn buttons decorate the gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

Judic Chollet Knows All About the Destructive Small Boy.

The invention of ready made clothing is undoubtedly a labor saving one, especially for mothers of boys, but every advantage has its disadvantage, and garments often require alteration in order to be really useful. A common fault of ready made shirts, both cotton and woolen, is a neck too high at the back. No man or boy can carry himself properly when his neck is thrust forward by an ill fitting shirt. If it be not possible to have such garments made to order, be sure that any constrict-

tion of the neck is relieved before the shirt is worn. As a rule, materials for boys' clothing containing blue stripes or checks should be avoided. Blue, except the dark navy blue, usually fades and makes even a good garment look shabby weeks before its race is legitimately run. Some browns are apt to turn rusty. Plain black or any plain color shows stains of all sorts more readily than a mixed surface. And, after all is said and done, the boy's clothes will be rusty and in tatters long before the best human judgment could have foreseen the catastrophe.

The clothing of girls is a much less difficult problem. Although a ready made wardrobe is quite as easily obtainable for them as for boys, many mothers prefer to have their little daughters' sewing done at home. A woman who makes no success at all of boys' tailoring is often able to make neat and fashionable little gowns and cloaks and to evolve the utmost possibilities of a few yards of challie or serge.

Wide felt hats are to be worn by little girls this winter, trimmed with ribbons and ostrich feathers, but the brims are not caught up—are indeed very little bent.

The illustration shows two pretty gowns for children. The first is of striped woolen goods and has a plain skirt and a round bodice confined by a ribbon belt with long ends at the left side. A plain silk fichu with wide double frills crosses the front of the bodice over a silk plastron. The sleeve puffs are of striped goods and the lower part of the sleeves of silk.

The second gown is of rose colored challie. The plain skirt is sewed on the bodice under a belt of garnet velvet ribbon with choux and ends. A wattleau plait falls over the front of the frock, the bodice being additionally trimmed with velvet ribbon. The balloon sleeves reach only to the elbow.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Fancy velvets are to be much worn, some being patterned with a tiny check. For those who can wear checks they are perfection, but every one cannot wear checks.

ELECTION NOTICE.

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK
JANESVILLE, OCTOBER, 24, 1894.
To the electors of Rock county:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the sixth day of November, 1894, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, and the questions submitted to a vote, are given opposite the name of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its appropriate column below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, voter must retire, alone to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter, if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark, X, under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the square made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all of the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased, and will be counted for all names written in lieu of one erased or pasted over a printed name. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should erase the names of the candidates he does not desire to vote for, and make a cross mark, X, after the name of each candidate he does, desire to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office and make a cross, X, in the square at the right of it. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum, to assist the voter in marking his ballot, can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer, that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers, in marking same, to be chosen by the voter. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

THE "TENDERFOOT'S" FRIEND.

GIBBS WAS SURPRISED.

And the Telegram Made Him Hurry Home on the Double-Quick.

Gibbs was a commercial traveler and had gone on a journey to the North. A few days afterwards the Gibbs household was increased by one—a boy. As the mother was very ill the doctor was requested to write out a telegram informing Gibbs of the addition to his family and also his wife's illness, and asking him to return home with as little delay as possible.

This was done and the telegram was given to the servant to send off. That intelligent girl, being unable to read, put the message in her pocket and forgot all about it. The next day Gibbs paid a flying visit home and was gratified to find his wife and family going on nicely. After staying at home a few hours he took his departure without anything having been said about the telegram, which his wife naturally supposed he had received.

A day or two after he had gone the servant found the message in her pocket and after consulting her favorite policeman she decided to send it off at once without saying a word to anyone about the delay. That night Gibbs upon returning to his hotel, was horrified when the following telegram, bearing that day's date was placed in his hand:

"Another addition, a son; your wife is very ill; return at once."

"Another!" he gasped. "Great Jupiter!"

He rushed to the station and took the next train home and dashing into the house in a state of frenzy, demanded to know what had happened. The servant confessed all. Next day there was a vacancy for an intelligent honest girl at Gibbs' establishment.

The Regimental Dog.

A novel feature at the military tournament is a collie used for carrying despatches. The dog would scarcely have scored anything in, say, the open class for rough-haired collies at the Kennel club or Collie club shows, but it was evidently an animal brimful of intelligence, a quality which dogs accustomed to the show bench may sometimes be rather lacking in.

Collies, as a matter of fact, are now used quite extensively for military purposes, and a number of foreign regiments have their collies, just as the Twenty-third has its goat, though with much more practical objects in view. The collie may not be able to find his way home, like the pigeon, at long range, but for short messages, and when he knows the way to his beloved master, he is a "nailer."
